

What If

Trapped inside my own imagination
Trying to find the perfect words to make some sense
Afraid of what you'll think of me and who I am
Fearful of the critics and the consequence of letting you in

What if I'm free but don't really believe it?
What if I fail and everybody sees it?
What if I'm loved but don't know just how much?
If you see every part of me and don't run
What if?

Why am I so scared to disappoint you
If I told you how I really feel?
You know me better than I know myself
So why am I so scared to go and tell you what you already know?

What if I'm free but don't really believe it?
What if I fail and everybody sees it?
What if I'm loved but don't know just how much?
If you see every part of me and don't run
What if?

We're all just trading affirmation
Bartering approval for our self esteem
Fear of missing out on the material
Keeps us from embracing all the riches of eternity

What if I'm free but don't really believe it?
What if I fail and everybody sees it?
What if I'm loved but don't know just how much?
If you see every part of me and don't run
What if?
What if?
